

Supercharging Trucking Services: A Case Study

How AAA Trucking Services Inc. Has Benefitted from their Relationship with 1080 Titan Technologies

Calgary Trucking Company Supercharges Their IT Productivity

AAA Trucking Services Inc. has built a reputation for their excellent service within the Calgary community. They provide fast and reliable service to anyone who has had the privilege to work with them.

Barbara Guilbault is the Co-President of AAA Trucking. She is a long term, and highly respected client of ours. In the following, Guilbault will describe her experience while working with the {company} over the past few years.

From Bumpy to Smooth

Our IT solution for AAA trucking involved basic computer monitoring to start. However, that very quickly turned into a full remote support and management package.

An example of an immediate issue that needed to be solved involves an instance when a laptop of theirs was not booting up properly, and became riddled with viruses.

Our immediate solution was to drain out the power with a screwdriver, instantly allowing the laptop to re-boot. We then decided to use Malwarebytes to find and remove 2 trojans. Guilbault's laptop is now fully functional and clean of any viruses – and she now uses Beanywhere monitoring for all for their computers.

We have two businesses, trucking and network marketing. Keeping expenses low is an important aspect of our business, but we have found the cheapest often ends up costing us more money and time. 1080 Titan Technologies are very responsive and keep us safe from spam, viruses, and data breaches.

Explains Guilbault, Co-President of AAA Trucking Services Inc.

Results, Results, Great Results

We are pleased to say that the AAA trucking team is now operating on a fully functional, and fast system. They do not ever have to worry about viruses or breaches – and can concentrate on what's important.

Prevention is always better than fixing expensive problems and possible down time. 1080 Titan Technologies covers all aspects of our businesses, they are prompted to respond and have saved us money by preventing, instead repairing expensive problems. We would highly recommend 1080 Titan Technologies to anyone needing IT management.
